San Rafael, Mendoza ARGENTINA

In 1928 Italian immigrant Valentín Bianchi realized his dream of owning a vineyard and winery. His wines were awarded the 'Maximum Quality Prize' at the Official Wine Exhibition event held in Mendoza in 1934. In the early 1950s, Valentín's sons joined the successful winery which was eventually handed down to them and to his grandsons. With the continued expertise of their fathers, Raul Bianchi leads the third generation in running the winery. All of the wines are from sustainably-farmed estate owned vineyards.

Despite the distance from the Andes in the west, San Rafael is still located within the mountain range's considerable rain shadow and has a semi-arid climate as a consequence. At the same time rivers flowing down from the mountains provide plentiful snow-melt water for vineyard irrigation, which can be judiciously applied to limit growth and vigor of the vine. The sandy, alluvial soils help in this regard as well; they are seasonably free-draining and cause the vines to develop deep root systems.

Elsa Bianchi

From the family estate vineyard named after Dona Elsa Bianchi, the matriarch of the Bianchi family, and grandmother of the current Bianchi owners, comes these clean fresh wines. All are pure varietal best expressing the terroir of the San Rafael Region of Mendoza Argentina.

Bianchi Oasis

Located in South Mendoza, the rapid waters of the Diamante and Atuel rivers give birth to this oasis, at the foot of the Andes Mountains. Having an east-west development, the southern oasis has a great variation in height above sea level. In turn, it is located significantly more to the south. The sun can be intense and the cool night allows for slow ripening of the grapes making these wines of incredible quality.

Family Winemaking

Our family has been producing wines in San Rafael, Mendoza, since 1928. We decant the winemaking experience and innovation of four generations into each of our wines. Deeply rooted in San Rafael, we are now firmly planted in one of the most exciting wine growing areas in Valle de Uco; to continue to lead the way for Argentine wine as we have for 90 years. The combination of high elevation, alluvial soils, irrigation sourced from the Andes Mountains, a long growing season with over 250 sunny days a year, little rain and vast temperature differences between day and night are all conducive to growing quality wine grapes. These climate and geography elements come together to provide excellent fruit ripening and concentration, developing colors, aromas, flavors and textures resulting in wines that are deep in color, intense in aromas and rich in flavors. The Uco Valley is a very prominent destination for tourists and visitors.

Enzo: This iconic wine is a tribute to Don Enzo Bianchi who was wine master at Bodegas Bianchi for more than 50 years. The base is Cabernet Sauvignon with Malbec with a mature and spicy expression that this varietal achieves in our stony soils of San Rafael. Full-bodied, fruity, ample mouth-feel, well balanced and good structure. Aged 14 months in 100% new French oak.

Pascual Toso reflects the authentic essence of Las Barrancas, the location of its single-vineyard estate and a region of Mendoza characterized by premium soils. Its terroir-driven profile makes Pascual Toso ideal for wine aficionados. At the beginning of the twentieth century, Pascual decided to expand the business and acquired 988 acres of vineyards in Maipú, which he correctly believed contained the best quality grapes in the region. At his estate "Las Barrancas", he built another winery and 100% of their wines are estate produced and bottled. Today, the Maipu' area is considered by technicians to be the prime wine producing area not only in the region of Mendoza, but throughout Argentina.

ARGENTINA

In the early 2000's, the winery brought in well-known American winemaker Paul Hobbs as a consultant. Pascual Toso is proud to have the wisdom and refinement of Paul Hobbs totaling more hierarchy, personality and distinction into their premium wines. In 2015, Felipe Stahlschmidt started as Chief Winemaker bringing with him drive, determination, passion and experience along with his natural talent to take on the challenge of leading the winemaking team to discover the characteristics of the Barrancas terroir and continuing making exceptional wines. For Felipe, great wines are a representation of terroir from which they come. He believes that the wines he is making for Pascual Toso are vigorous and full of character, portraying the beauty of the "harmonious relationship" humans can have with nature.

PARINGA™

SOUTH AUSTRALIA

The family of David & Dena Hickinbotham and their son Alan, have been involved in the Australian wine industry for nearly 80 years. In 1936, David's grandfather Alan Robb Hickinbotham helped establish the highly respected winemaking course at Roseworthy Agricultural College in South Australia where he taught young, upcoming winemakers and subsequent industry leaders and is regarded the father of Australian professional winemaking education.

Alan Robb and the family began growing grapes in 1971 in South Australia and in 1999, Paringa was established as the family brand. Paringa was one of the first high quality, value-priced Australian wines to obtain a 90 point rating from the Wine Spectator, with both the 2000 Paringa Cabernet Sauvignon and the 2001 Paringa Shiraz appeared on their front cover and selected in the Wine Spectator Top 100 list for 2002. Since its inception, the Paringa wine range, all produced from family vineyards, has achieved numerous "Best Buy" nominations from Wine Spectator, Wine Enthusiast and the Wine Advocate.

Vintage Longbottom McLaren Vale and Adelaide Hills, AUSTRALIA

Family always comes first for inspiring mother and daughter duo, Kim and Margo Longbottom as they move regions, re-brand and re-imagine the future of their unique, hand-crafted wine business. Ten years after Kim tragically lost her husband Mark to his battle with leukemia, mother and daughter have taken the bold step of re-inventing their enduring enterprise, literally from the ground up. First, they have shifted focus from their home and moved to the McLaren Vale and Adelaide Hills region. To also mark the transition, after a decade of Kim running the business alone since Mark's passing, she now welcomes her daughter Margo into the company to continue its history and look to its future. Margo brings with her a family-instilled passion for wine as well as a vibrant new outlook stemming from her studies in fashion, digital marketing and business. The new era in the Longbottom story is all about vitality of family, Kim says. "Before it's just been about me and my late husband, but with Margo coming into the fold, there's a natural transition underway. It's more than just sharing the load - it's a genuine fresh start and our next chapter." Under the new Vintage Longbottom branding, the traditional Henry's Drive brand also will re-position out of Padthaway to be sourced from the McLaren Vale region while retaining its classic styling. The 'H' series will also continue its elegant approach with an exciting and contemporary label facelift as well as moving to fruit sources from the Adelaide Hills.

Barossa Valley AUSTRALIA

The 3 Rings label was founded in 2004 and soon thereafter was earning 90+ ratings for its Shiraz and Reserve Shiraz in the world wine media, with the grapes coming from the rich terroir of Australia's famed Barossa Valley. The vineyards for 3 Rings Shiraz lie on an east-west slope with predominantly north-south rows, at an average age of 35 years. The soils are ancient and primarily clay over calcrete and slate bedrock, moving to more weathered slate at the bottom of an ancient glacier. Over the hills, the soils are deep, sandy loam and black clays. The grapes for 3 Rings Reserve Shiraz come from the nearby Kalimna sub-region of Barossa. It is a single vineyard owned by David Hickinbotham (one of the "three rings" of the wine's name). The terroir there also is sandy loam over black clay - and the age of the vines is an average of 85 years. 3 Rings is owned and operated by father and son team, David and Alan Robb Hickinbotham.

3 Rings Shiraz

100% Shiraz, full, even, dark ruby-red in color, with an elegantly presented nose. It is well concentrated, the fruit expression a little reserved initially, unfolding vibrant dark raspberries and blackberries, lifted by subtle, fragrant spice notes and aromatic black pepper, licorice and cedar.

KAY BROTHERS PTY. LTD.

Winemakers & Vignerons

McLaren Vale
AUSTRALIA

Established in 1890 by Australian born brothers Herbert & Frederick Kay, it is the oldest McLaren Vale winery still in the hands of the founding family, with Herbert's grandson Colin Kay continuing the family winemaking tradition. Bordering St. Vincent's Gulf, 24 miles south of Adelaide, the Kay Brothers McLaren Vale vineyards grace the rolling foothills of the Southern Mt. Lofty Ranges. The winery is located at the top of a hill three miles from the McLaren Vale Township & the cellar door, which is part of the original winery complex, boasts some stunning panoramic views of the surrounding picturesque valleys and hillsides.

The Kay's are specialists of traditional grape growing & winemaking, utilizing grapes from their own 54 acre vineyards to produce their wines. The main grape variety grown is Shiraz, including the 1892 planted Block 6. Colin's winemaking philosophy is to make rich full-bodied fruit-driven wines (using the original open fermenters and basket press) with a minimum of 18 months ageing in small American oak casks. The Block 6 Shiraz & Hillside Shiraz spend up to two & a half years maturing in a combination of American, Eastern European and French oak barrels.

Atlas Peak, Napa Valley CALIFORNIA

Atlas Peak is located in Napa Valley on the western slopes of the Vaca Range, which separates the Napa and Sacramento Valleys. With an elevation of 2663 feet, it is the most prominent peak in the region. Vineyards were first planted on Atlas Peak in 1870 with steady growth over the next 30 years.

Atlas Peak Vineyards was founded in 1987, 5 years before the AVA was designated, with the intent to make world class wine. High altitude vineyard location, specific soils & climate proved to be very conducive for growing premium Cabernet Sauvignon and this varietal is our primary focus.

The label takes its inspiration from Greek mythology. Atlas was a Titan condemned to hold up the celestial heavens for eternity. According to Greek legend, Atlas stands at the ends of the earth, in the west where the Nymphs of Golden Sunsets (Atlas's daughters) reign. He also played a role in the myths of two of the greatest Greek heroes. Heracles (also known in Roman mythology as Hercules) (and Perseus).

Bob Pepi, Winemaker

EPONYMOUS

Napa | Sonoma
CALIFORNIA

In 1966, Bob Pepi's family bought a ranch with vineyards in the Napa Valley. In 1980, his father retired and Bob decided to start a winery on the property, giving it the name they each carried, Robert Pepi. Their first harvest was in 1981, and Bob has been making wine ever since. After the winery sold, Bob became a consulting winemaker, working mainly in California, but traveling also to Argentina, Colorado, and Texas.

Eponymous began in 2000 with an opportunity to work with grapes that he felt would produce some of the best Cabernet wines in Napa Valley. Three vintages later, another opportunity presented itself through a friend and passionate vineyard manager, Javier Renteria; who was managing, and still is, the MacAllister Vineyard just off of Mt. Veeder ridge. Through planting Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc and Merlot, the vineyards differing soils and exposures gave him the chance to produce an elegant Bordeaux-style blend from Sonoma County. In 2008 he found a Syrah vineyard with which he wanted to work, and in 2009 made Cabernet Franc from the MacAllister Vineyard and a Cabernet Sauvignon from Spring Mountain in Napa Valley. I am sure that the story will not end there, as the chance to work with a great vineyard is not one that Bob can easily pass up.

The definition of "Eponymous" is "one for whom or which something is or is believed to be named."

Bob Pepi has given it his own playful definition: "A play on words by one who is unable to use his own family name on his own bottle of wine."

Bob Pepi, Owner & Winemaker

Foppiano Vineyards is an epic family, proud of its Italian heritage, full of tradition, perseverance and contributions to the history of Sonoma County and the wine industry. Founded in 1896 by Giovanni Foppiano, Foppiano Vineyards is one of Sonoma County's oldest continually-operated, family-owned wineries. Our family has supplied Northern California with wine for over a century, surviving Prohibition in the 1920s by selling home winemaking kits.

We believe that through the strength of the family and a commitment to quality, our traditions can be maintained and thrive. We're proud to be one of the founding members of the Russian River Valley AVA, and continue to enjoy the fruits of our hardworking Italian heritage. To stay on the cutting edge of quality winemaking, we've made important investments in infrastructure and winery equipment throughout the years. The vision of the fifth generation of Foppianos, together with Giovanni's foresight to purchase land in the Russian River Valley, guides our family into the future while creating a world class wine program representative of our history.

Family owned & operated by the fourth generation of the Kautz Family State of the Art Winery & Caverns
Lodi & Sierra Foothills appellations

Ironstone Vineyards, run by the fourth generation of the Kautz Family, is located in the Sierra Foothills town of Murphys, in the heart of California's scenic Gold Rush Country. In the early 1900's, Frederick and Marie Kautz came to America from Germany, buying farmland through a US Land Grant in the Lodi region of the San Joaquin Valley. Frederick passed away in 1940, leaving the farm to his young son John, who in 1948 dedicated 12 acres of their farm exclusively to growing grapes. John quickly built an excellent reputation as a premium grape supplier, amassing over 6500 acres devoted to vines in Lodi and in the Sierra Foothills.

In 1988, John, his wife Gail, and with the help of their children, Steven, Kurt, Jack and Joan, decided to follow their dream of building a winery, a state-of-the-art production facility with 10,000 square feet of hand blasted cellars located 42 feet below ground that maintain a year-round temperature of 60°F used for aging Ironstone wines. Ironstone Winery is now the 6th largest wine grape grower in California. The family is a huge supplier to other much-larger producers, while using its premium grapes for their own wines.

Obsession has always been the Kautz Family's signature wine for Ironstone Vineyards.

The selection of Symphony for the base wine and the choice of natural and organic fruit flavors to compliment it was the genesis of the Obsession Fruit wines. The low alcohol and higher fruit sweetness is balanced with higher acid and increased carbonation for flavor and texture.

The winemaking team lead by Steve Millier and Liza Yurovich, in collaboration with David Crippen, Han Han and Natale Gagliardo, was to infuse and create a style that would be fun, flavorful and low calorie.

Although practicing "sustainability" in the vineyards for over 35 years, the Kautz Family were officially certified in 2018 and 2019 through the Sustainable Viticulture Certification. Crop reduction, leaf removal, organic materials and drip irrigation for water management have all been used throughout our vineyards. Additionally, cover crops which attract beneficial insects, as well as owl and wood duck boxes placed around the vineyards

These wines are perfect for various cocktails using vodka, tequila, Grand Marnier, Champagne and various other cocktail ingredients. Crisp, fun and refreshing fruit infused wines produced right here in California.

LUCAS & LEWELLEN

Estate Vineyards

Santa Barbara County
CALIFORNIA

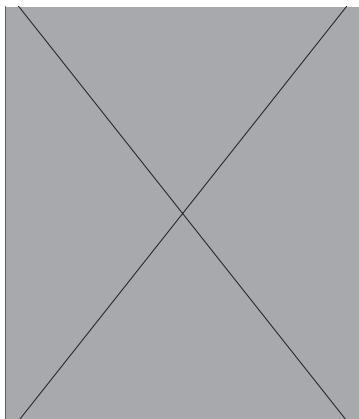

Starting in 1975, what started as a friendship, became a lifelong partnership, converging on the belief in the quality of Santa Barbara. Over the next 30 years, they would acquire over 400 acres of vineyards with the goal of staying true to Santa Barbara's cool climate style. Vineyards like Los Alamos, Goodchild and Valley View would soon become the foundation and backbone to create their coastal quality spanning the micro-climates across Santa Maria Valley, Los Alamos Valley and Santa Ynez Valley.

Santa Barbara County has a history of winemaking and wine grape growing stretching back more than 200 years to before California was a state. From the Mission Era of early California through the Ranchero and Pueblo Era, struggling through Prohibition to the beginning of the modern era of winemaking that started in the 60's. Santa Barbara County is different than any other wine growing region in the world. Here, the east-west orientation of the coastal mountains forms valleys opening directly to the Pacific Ocean. This unique topography allows the flow of fog and ocean breezes to shape distinct micro-climates, perfect for the cultivation of classic grape varietals and world-class wines. The 50 miles stretching from Point Conception to Rincon constitutes the longest east-west traverse of shoreline from Alaska to Cape Horn. The Santa Ynez and San Rafael Mountains form a unique coastal range - the inland ebb and flow of fog and ocean breezes make the region one of the coolest vinicultural areas in California. This means that the fruit has an unusually long "hang time" on the vine, allowing it to fully develop the acids, flavors and tannins needed to produce wines of distinctive character.

Santa Barbara County
CALIFORNIA

The Los Alamos Valley lies between cool Santa Maria Valley and even cooler Sta Rita Hills, yet stretches over the hills into the sometimes sweltering Santa Ynez Valley, the Los Alamos Valley is able to produce wines that show off the climatic diversity of Santa Barbara County. This vineyard was originally planted from cuttings brought over from Europe over 40 years ago, this vineyard is home to over 20 varieties of grapes. Thick layers of clay and loam soils coupled with temperate climate, provide ideal grape growing conditions for Rhone, Burgundian, Bordeaux and Italian varietals.

Goodchild and Old Adobe Vineyards are in the Santa Maria Valley AVA. Since this valley runs east to west rather than north to south, like the Sonoma and Napa valleys, and opens directly onto the Pacific Ocean, there's a strong sea breeze that kicks up every day around noon, dropping daytime temperatures, keeping the evenings chilly and assuring that the grapes take a long time to ripen, which leads to full flavor development. Along both sides of the acclaimed Foxen Wine Trail, these cool climate vineyards consistently produce prize-winning Pinot Noir and Chardonnay grapes. The soils vary from clay and gravel river deposits to hillside and hilltop sites reminiscent of the great vineyards of Burgundy.

Valley View Vineyard is located in the Santa Ynez Valley AVA, though often considered a new guy on the California wine block, the Santa Ynez Valley boasts nearly four decades of wine-making experience, and the early years of experimenting with different grape varietals are paying off in big ways. This warm climate vineyard slopes gently toward the Santa Ynez River and features well drained fine sand and gravelly loam soils. The lower elevation of this south-facing vineyard produces what many consider Santa Barbara County's best Cabernet Sauvignon.

SAMUEL CHARLES

High Valley | Oak Knoll
CALIFORNIA

The majestic Stag's head is the perfect symbol for these fairly new wines from Dennis and Stephen D. Kreps. Like the Stag, a large male deer indigenous to Europe but now found as far away as Argentina and New Zealand, Cabernet Sauvignon and Sauvignon Blanc have taken root in vineyards across most of the New World. The symbol best represents the melding old world varietals and basic winemaking techniques with New World technology and innovation. These wines are truly the 'best of both worlds.'"

Renowned Napa Valley winemaker Robert Pepi is the magician behind these stellar wines. Grapes for the Oak Knoll Cabernet Sauvignon come from a vineyard located on the benchlands of the Mayacamas Mountain Range, where the region's best terrior is found. The Sauvignon Blanc grapes are grown in the High Valley AVA of Lake County, CA. At nearly 2,000 feet elevation, they are some of the highest and best Sauvignon Blanc vineyards in the state.

The label is named after Dennis Kreps' two sons; It expresses the great pride he has in both of them as well as the wines.

Bob Pepi, Winemaker

High Valley | Red Hills CALIFORNIA

Two Angels wines are crafted by famed California consulting winemaker Robert Pepi and owned by the Kreps family. Two Angels Petite Sirah and Sauvignon Blanc vineyards are located in the new AVA of High Valley and Red Hills in Lake County at an elevation between 1700-2200 ft.

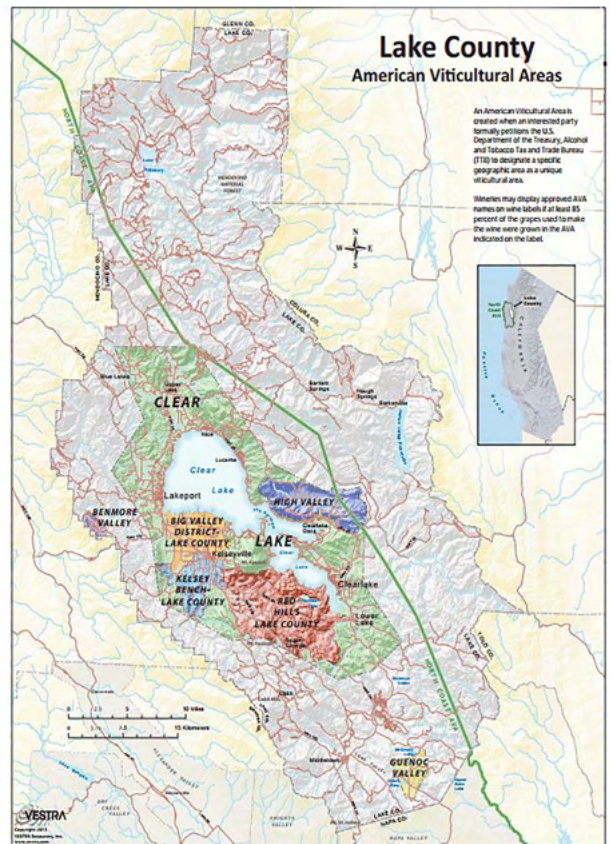

The label art was created by Jacob de Backer in 1591 and the theme is the hilarity of inebriation and the trauma of the morning after. Excessive joy must be countered by equally excessive sorrow, with penitential atonement for pleasure. Related to the Oriental "yin and yang" concept it was created as an allegorical warning to "use wine sparingly or suffer the consequences."

Founded in 1880 as California's 29th bonded winery, Family Owned, Geyser Peak is one of the most legendary wineries with a name synonymous with the skyrocketing popularity of domestically produced wines from the 1990's. It has been at the forefront of quality wine production since its earliest days. With a long pedigree of awards and accolades, it is still one of the most recognized domestic labels in the world of wine.

Originally located perched on a hillside across from Geyser Peak Mountain, it commanded a view of the thermal steam clouds that billowed from the mountain summit. Here, in this special place, geothermal activity created the diverse soil profiles that make this region so exceptionally well suited to wine grape cultivation. To support the re-birth of the brand, Bob Pepi Jr. will be the consulting winemaker, highly lauded for his prowess with Sauvignon Blanc.

CALIFORNIA

Outlot wines are a tribute to Sonoma's rich agricultural heritage. Named in tribute to the special area outside Healdsburg called the Magnolia Peninsula, where farmers fought to protect the land as agricultural, Outlot wines offer three distinct varietals priced within the fast growing premium category - a zesty Sauvignon Blanc, luscious Chardonnay, refreshing Rosé, and sumptuous Cabernet Sauvignon.

The 'Magnolia Peninsula', an area located just outside downtown Healdsburg, has a long and rich history filled with stories of great ranches and exclusive resorts. Famous for its rich soil, nurseries and orchards thrived here from the late 1800s, ultimately giving way to the vineyards that are abundant in the area today. Threatened by development in the early 1970s, farmers fought to protect the land, which to this day, remains agricultural. Outlot wines are a tribute to this very special area and rich agricultural heritage, capturing the spirit of the land and the sentiment of preservation.

Alexander Valley CALIFORNIA

XYZin celebrates the pioneering spirit of California grape growing by focusing on the heritage grape Zinfandel. It is a versatile and unique grape with an aura about it that holds the rustic appeal of an easy-drinking informal wine. In crafting the wines, the winemaker works with vineyards of a variety of clones and training systems, with vines that range in age from 18 to 100+ years.

Zinfandel readily takes on a distinct character unique to the region in which it is grown. We prize the many faces of Zinfandel and find that blending across appellations creates wines layered with fruit, spice and floral components. From Sonoma County to Lake County to Solano and Lodi, each region adds a lively and complementary dimension to this fragrant and luscious wine.

Great Value Wine CA Zinfandel Under $30

XYZin celebrates the distinction and elegance of the Zinfandel grape. Though its origins are in Croatia, Zinfandel has uniquely become California's signature grape. The North Coast is home to some of the most historic plantings of Zinfandel in the state. Sonoma, Lake and Solano Counties are all home to plantings that date back over 100 years.

We source from both historic and modern plantings with the aim to blend the best that each vineyard has to offer. The spectrum of fruit, spice and candied flavors found in this robust varietal range from indulgent to refined and make the wine pair with a variety of foods and occasions.

In 1892, the Matetic family emigrated from Croatia to Chile to colonize Patagonia. Over the years, the family has been successful in a number of earth-based businesses including farming, ranching, mining and tourism. Matetic Vineyards is part of Matetic Enterprises, a strong economic and diversified holding company with solid financial backing. While developing their Rosario Valley enterprise, they found extraordinary conditions for growing premium wine grapes giving them an opportunity to further diversify their agricultural business.

In 1999, Matetic Vineyards was established by Jorge Matetic in the Rosario Valley, 75 miles away from Santiago. The north part of the property is located in the Casablanca Valley D.O. and the south part of the property is part of the San Antonio Valley D.O. Matetic was the first Chilean winery to grow cool climate Syrah. Matetic has 470 acres farmed organically (certification by CERES), under biodynamic principles (Demeter certification) to achieve 100% natural grapes. Two-thirds of the fruit is used for the production of Matetic Wines.

Corralillo is the name of a very old wine cellar that used to be in El Rosario Valley, where wines of the ancient "País" grapes were once made. To honor the tradition of our terroir, we chose the name Corralillo and its symbol that is typical of our labels. Corralillo comes from the Spanish word "corral" that means farmyard in English. Today, these wines are the best expression of each variety in different areas of the estate's vineyard.

GEORGES DUBOEUF

Flower Label Wines
Burgundy, FRANCE

For more than four centuries, the Duboeuf family has been producing wine. Georges, who passed away in January, 2020 at age 86, was well-known for his dynamism, created Les Vins Georges Duboeuf in September of 1964. This historical date also marked the start of his wine merchant business -- selecting, bottling and selling fine French wines from the Beaujolais and Mâconnais regions of Burgundy. In the process, Georges and his wines became world famous.

In essence, Georges was the ambassador of the region...loyal to his quest of offering quality wines, combining the flavor profiles of their terroir with bold characters. He conducted his business by negotiating with heart, passion and the constant desire to share the very best of Beaujolais. In continuing the family tradition, Georges' son Franck runs the family business, with his son Aurelian recently taking a role on the winemaking side, and Franck's wife Anne managing the unique "wine-centric" museum, botanical gardens and family-friendly amusement park, Le Hameau Duboeuf.

Cultivating the future of Bordeaux

Our family has long been rooted deeply in the Médoc, where Aquitaine tapers out between the Atlantic and the Gironde Estuary. The Bouey Family has tended vines since 1821 - tended, not merely owned. Like any other priceless heirloom, we are merely keeping the vines fruitful and alive for the generations to come.

In this way, the family's core values of careful vine -growing and skillful wine-making have been preserved and handed down along the line. These values are as relevant today as they ever have been, and we understand the importance of creating wine in harmony with nature. We strive to protect and nurture the earth and our biodiversity, preserving our ancestral skills while extracting the best from new technology.

We believe in creating and spreading our passion for Bordeaux wines around the world, laying the foundations for the next generation to do the same. This next generation must retain this ethos and identity while forging closer bonds to our land, our values and the people closest to us. Indeed, we strive to do the same on a daily basis, sharing this same aspiration with the hundred-strong team at Maison Bouey.

IGP Atlantique, FRANCE

Cuvee 11 & Cuvee 20

Two dark and brooding red wines, whose fruit and freshness come together to honor two major events in the history of the Bouey Family. Firstly it would be inadmissible not to mention the first 11 hectares of vines acquired by Jean Bouey in 1821. They are after all, the genesis of this particular story. And secondly, La Cuvée 20 is acknowledgement of a more contemporary event but no less important: the arrival of the fourth generation of the Bouey Family. Yann Bouey joined his father and his uncle in the family business in 2020 and thus he weaves his own intricacies into the tapestry of Bouey family narrative.

OH LA VACHE! French slang, loosely translated as “Holy Cow”

“Oh La Vache!”, an eco-responsible wine produced with the utmost respect for biodiversity and the values surrounding durable development, certified High Environment Value – Level 3.

This wine, with its recycled and refined glass, with its label produced from cane sugar fibers, and with its cork coming exclusively from sustainable forests, is made to be recycled once it has been enjoyed. The future of our planet is being written today, one bottle at a time.

Châteauneuf-du-Pape, Côtes-du-Rhône, Vin De Pays, FRANCE

The Brunel family's winemaking history reaches back to the 17th century with the purchase of a vineyard plot to the north of the Châteauneuf-du-Pape appellation from the Bishop of Avignon. Numerous generations followed, all working in the vineyards, but it was in 1954 that Lucien Brunel created the name "Les Cailloux" or "The Pebbles" to promote the Domaine's wine qualities and special geological characteristic of the large oval stones covering his vineyards.

In 1971, Lucien's son André Brunel took the helm at the Domaine. His endless motivation and eye for quality resulted in a steady expansion of the family's vineyards with acquisitions in the Côtes du Rhône and select plots of Vaucluse Vins de Pays. In 1989 he launched the now coveted Cuvée Centenaire and continued to improve the vineyard management practices. André was one of the first in Châteauneuf-du-Pape to use tailored ground cover methods and to practice a non-chemical approach to farming his vineyards.

In 2012, André's son, Fabrice Brunel, joined the team to ensure the family's history and passion would continue. The pursuit for quality; the utmost respect for the land; and the drive to produce beautiful wines, which are both enjoyable in the immediate present as well as in future years with excellent aging potential, the Brunel family is meticulous in cultivating vineyards, sourcing quality grapes, and winemaking style.

Côtes de Provence
FRANCE

A jewel in the heart of Provence; between the Mount Sainte-Victoire and the Aurélien Hills, at the foot of the Sainte-Victoire mountain range, 12 miles east of Aix-en-Provence, sits one of the most beautiful terroirs of Provence, the Vallée de l'Arc, (Arc Valley). Château Ferrylacombe is situated at the heart of the valley.

The history goes that by accompanying good King René of Anjou from Naples to Provence, the Ferry family originally settled in this land in 1442, founded the vineyards and remained well into the 1800's.

About 16 years ago, the property was acquired by the Pinot family and the winery is run today by Michel and his children, Matthew and Alexandra. The vineyards use integrated farming techniques and follow the Terra Vitis charter for sustainable viticulture. Besides making great Rosé, respecting the environment is their primary concern.

FRANCE

Founded in 1836, now run by 5th generation Georges Lorentz and his family, the winery is based in the village of Bergheim in Central Alsace. The region benefits from a continental climate, receiving ample sunshine and dry winters thanks to the rain shadow effect off the Vosges Mountains. The intricate relationship between the terroir and climate is what sets these wines apart.

All 85 acres are harvested exclusively by hand and in 2012 became certified organic with "Ecocert". The winery offers a full range of wines including five from two Grand Cru vineyards. The next chapter of Maison Gustave Lorentz is safeguarded by three daughters, who will inherit this remarkable legacy and ensure that the domaine continues to produce high-quality wines from Alsace.

COUNT KÁROLYI

Pannon HUNGARY

Dr. Herold Binderer founded the company Binderer St. Ursula in 1951 and worked tirelessly until his late eighties. His son, Peter, who took over the business, carries on the family tradition. After the fall of the "Iron Curtain" Peter decided in the mid-90's to buy one winery in the north and to build another winery in the south of Hungary because he knew about the long tradition and excellent potential of Hungarian winemaking. Together with Lazlo Karolyi, a Hungarian aristocrat with a turbulent life, shaped by escape from war and comebacks in different continents. Peter created his first white wine in 1998.

Since then, quality and innovative concepts have been the key factors in the success of these two gentlemen. As Lazlo loves the taste of the important white wine variety Gruner Veltliner, he gave his name "Count Karolyi" to create this brand. This fresh white wine has a real varietal character. Enjoy its lemony aromas with a spicy, peppery touch typical of Gruner from Pannon, south west Hungary - a region spoiled by sunshine.

Ascevi Luwa

Friuli Venezia Giulia
ITALY

The City of San Floriano del Collio nestles among gently rolling hills covered with vineyards, cherry trees and acacia woods, within the Friuli Venezia Giulia region near the Slovenian border. It is here that Mariano Pintar and his wife Loredana planted their first vineyard on a small plot of land in 1972. Over the years their great commitment and enthusiasm has allowed the estate to increase its area to approximately 74 acres, situated in the Collio and Friuli Isonzo DOC zones, which have always been prime winegrowing country.

The hamlet of Ascevi is the name of the area where the largest vineyard (approximately 14 acres) is located. Luwa is derived from combining the names Luana and Walter, Marian and Loredana's children. The Collio vineyards are situated at an altitude between 590-820 feet above sea level in soil with good structure and mineral content made up of stratified marl and sandstone. Most of the estate's production comes from these vineyards.

"Ceròu" is the old name of area where winery owner Mariano Ascevi first planted vines in the 1970's. He transformed what was mostly forest into vineyards through major evacuation work, including the removal of old bombs from the First World War.

Founded in the late 1970's by brothers Franco Pontiglione, Carlo Pontiglione and Giuseppe Priola, the Bel Colle Winery was a dream come true. Diligence and dedication produced great wines winning many accolades and awards in national and international magazines including Gambero Rosso, Wine Spectator and Wine Enthusiast to name a few.

In August 2015, Bel Colle was purchased by Luca Bosio, whose family has been growing grapes and making wines in the nearby Asti section of Piedmont since the mid-1960's. As a skilled winemaker, Luca was thrilled to be able to make wines from a different part of the region where there is an unusual microclimate and geology that is especially congenial to the growing region of Nebbiolo. As a winemaker, Luca Bosio is excited to work with a grape that is native specifically to the Verduno area. This grape, called Pelaverga, is a red grape that was brought to the region in the 17th century by a native son of the area who became a priest and cultivated it mostly for religious and medicinal purposes.

Their son, Valter Bosio married Rosella and along with their son Luca, a graduate winemaker, work tirelessly to keep up the family tradition. Luca brought a wave of freshness and novelty, both in technical and commercial areas, and after the success of his innovative and progressive ideas, and under the constant support of the family, the winery was renamed, Luca Bosio Vineyards and Luca was put in charge.

Located in the center of the Langhe region of Piedmont, with 60 acres of vineyards, the winery dedicated this special wine and label to Leda, a faithful companion to the Bosio family for 15 years and is legendary for her ability to hunt truffles. The family named this wine in her honor so her legacy and story will live on each time a bottle is opened and a glass is toasted. Leda is a Lagotto Romagnolo, a breed of dog that comes exclusively from the Romagna sub-region of Italy. Leda '2000 - 2015'.

Leda partners with PetFinder Foundation where $0.25/per bottle sold is donated to animal rescue efforts.

Carlo Ghisolfi bought a small property of approximately nine acres in 1985 in what is now known as the "Cru Bussia" and started making wine. Carlo's son and grandson expanded the property accumulating 21 additional acres of neighboring lands. The wines under the Ghisolfi label were made in 1988 and it included a Barolo Bricco Visette, which is the name of the hill of Carlo's original nine acres.

Until 1987, the land was used for both vines and other agricultural products. At that time, Carlo's great grandson Gianmarco Ghisolfi had come into the family business and, with his father Attilio, converted most of the land over to grapevines in order to start producing wines under their own label. While not organically certified, the vineyards are eco-friendly and cultivated with a great respect for the environment.

The Estate

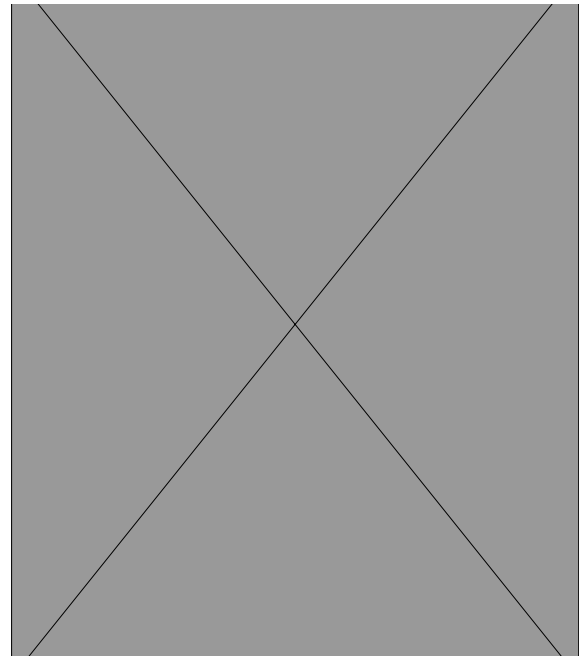

Montalcino, Tuscany
ITALY

The "La Mannella" vineyards, owned by the Cortonesi family, covers a surface of 138 acres, 20 of which especially devoted to the production of Brunello di Montalcino. The vineyards are located in one of the most valuable areas of the region, both north and south-east of Montalcino.

It is a rather young company, with their first bottled vintage from 1990. The Cortonesi family works according to tradition, yet employs modern winemaking technologies that help enhance the quality of their wines. The favorable location of its vineyards, and the rocky soil where they are planted, all contribute to the making of a deep and elegant Brunello, well suited for a long aging period.

Vino dei Fratelli translates to "Wine of the Brothers" features a new label that was inspired by the image on an ancient Roman coin of the famous brothers Castor and Pollux who, together, symbolize the ideal of brotherly love. The new packaging features a dramatic battle scene from an 1879 engraving by John Reinhard Weguelin. It depicts a Roman legend in which Castor and Pollux are transformed into two young knights who battled so bravely together that they spurred on the army of the Kingdom of Rome to a legendary victory at the Battle of Lake Regillus in the early 5th Century B.C. The new labels make a strong statement between brothers and the power of family. Each of the wines under this brand has been made in proud partnership with a family owned Italian winery that represents top quality of their respective region.

The City of San Floriano de Collio nestles among gently rolling hills covered in vineyards, cherry trees and acacia woods, within the Friuli Venezia Giulia region near the Slovenian border. It is here that Mariano and his wife Loredana planted their first vineyard on a small plot of land in 1972. Over the years, their great commitment and enthusiasm has allowed the estate to increase its area to approximately 74 acres. The hamlet of Ascevi is the name of the area where the largest vineyard (approximately 14 acres) is located. Luwa is derived from combining the names Luana and Walter, Mariano and Loredana's children. The Collio vineyards are situated at an altitude between 590 to 820 feet above sea level in soil with good structure and mineral content made up of stratified marl and sandstone. Most of the estate's production come from these vineyards.

Vintage Ports are made in the best of the vintages, the hallmark of each Port house. Vintage Port is aged for a few years in tank or cask then bottled to finish aging in the bottle. If properly stored, these wines will age for decades throwing sediment after a few years and should be decanted.

Tawny Port wines are intended to be sweet, so fermentation is arrested halfway through the process, before all the residual sugar has been fermented through the addition of grape spirits, thus fortifying the wine and aged in 600 liter oak casks for years during which time, the complex aromas and flavors become thoroughly integrated and the distinct hue develops.

100 years of Port is a special collection with all four aged Tawny Ports, which adds up to 100 years, a century of Port. Truly a unique gift, these smooth, richly flavored Tawny Ports come in a handsome wooden box.  special order only **

Alexandre Relvas and his family have been developing different types of wines using mostly indigenous varieties throughout the years at Herdade São Miguel producing incredible quality to price values.

Sul is a red wine produced by Herdade de São Miguel with grapes grown in magnesium sedimentary loam soils, ranging from sandy-loam to clay-loam in the Alentejo area of Southern Portugal. Portugal is the world's largest producer of cork, and Alentejo is called the land of cork. Portuguese cork forests rank among the top biodiversity hotspots in Europe. This wine is a tribute to the region and to the family's commitment in preserving the cork forests in these lands.

Clay amphora has been used for making wine for more than 3000 years, since Roman times. Because it is made of clay, it is porous and the inside has to be coated with an impermeable surface. The ancestral technique, still in use today is to varnish the inside with pine resin, called Pez Louro, in which other natural ingredients such as herbs and bee wax may be mixed.

The Casa de Vila Nova Estate

The esteemed Lencastre family, direct descendants of the Royal Family of Portugal, Antonio Pinot Garces Mandureira, who was named the First Barão da Varzea do Douro by Portugal's Queen Maria II on July 16, 1846. The family's royal residence is Vila Nova, near the town of Penafiel which is close to the eastern border in Portugal's Vinho Verde wine region. The estate has been in the family since the 12th century. The only remnant of that time is an ivy-covered stone tower that was built in the 1700's is now totally surrounded by Vila Nova, the new estate house.

In the late 1970s, the family planted white grape vines over 29 acres, mostly the native Portuguese varietals that are most often used in Vinho Verde wines – Loureiro, Arinto, Avesso and Trajudura. In 2003, Bernardo Lencastre, who will be the Fifth Baron in the family, took over the property with his siblings. He spearheaded revitalization efforts, restoring Vila Nova into the showplace it is today.

BODEGAS OLLAURI CONDE DE LOS ANDES

Rioja
SPAIN

The Murua family, owners of Bodegas Muriel and Viña Eguia, bought the famed Conde de los Andes and its legendary cellars in 2014, with the dream of rescuing one of the most historical names and places in the Rioja wine industry from the ravages of time and neglect. They have been conducting an ambitious recovery project - renovating the cellar and winery buildings, cataloging 400,000 bottles in the cellar (with wines dating back to 1892) and tasting through all the historical vintages.

Conde de los Andes is located in Ollauri, a small, old village of just 300 in the heart of the Rioja Alta, part of the Rioja appellation, between the southern banks of the Ebro River and the foothills of the Sierra de la Demanda mountain range. It lies in what has long been considered the best terroir of Rioja, world-renowned for the quality of the vineyards and the wines made from the grapes those vines yield. In 1896, a winery was established, but the amazing underground cellars go back even further, to the 16th century, when they were first excavated as wine caves for a wealthy family. It was enlarged in the 17th century. And by the 1950's, the cellars and the wines housed in them were so well-known that wine aficionados visited from around the globe, including Ernest Hemmingway.

The grapes for the new Conde de los Andes range come from approximately 49 acres of vineyards either owned or controlled by the Murua family in three municipalities in the Rioja Alta - Ollauri, Haro, and Brinas. Spain's "signature" red grape, Tempranillo, covers nearly 90% of the vineys, with a little Garnacha also growing there. The rest is planted to Viura and Malvasia, the base for a semi-sweet white. All of the vines are more than 50 years old and the majority of those vines are planted in the traditional gobelet system.

According to Javier Murua, "unlike most Spanish wineries that usually release a number of red wines at different levels of barrel aging, we are producing only one red wine that will be aged as our winemaker decides for each new vintage. This actually is in tradition of the winery itself, when Conde de los Andes wines were at the height of their popularity.

MURIEL

SPAIN

Founded in 1982, when Julian Murua Entrena revived his father, Jose Murua’s winery, which dates back to 1926 in the heart of the Rioja Alavesa (one of the three sub-regions that make up Spain’s Rioja appellation). The cellars are in the quaint, historic village of Elciego, which is renowned for being surrounded by some of the best “terrior” in Rioja. The name “Muriel” comes from the combination of the family name, Murua, and the name of the town itself, Elciego.

Today, Julian and his son Javier run the winery with the mission to meld the long-held winemaking traditions of the region with new technologies and techniques in order to make wines that express the “best qualities” of the grapes coming from these fertile Riojan vineyards. Like most of red wines in the region, all Bodegas Muriel wines are 100% Tempranillo, the “signature” grape of the region. Due to the special micro-climate of the region, there is a triple influence from the Mediterranean, Continental and Atlantic climates, which helps the vines produce very aromatic and elegant wines, whose main characteristic is the potential to age.

All grapes are selected from Rioja Alavesa and Alta vineyards where soils are very poor and chalky with a clayish-sandy texture. Due to the special micro-climate of the region, there is a triple influence from the Mediterranean, Continental and Atlantic climates, which helps the vines produce very aromatic and elegant wines, whose main characteristic is the potential to age.

SPAIN

The Vina Eguia winery and vineyards were established in 1973 in Elciego and purchased by Bodegas Muriel in 2010. Elciego is a historic village in the Rioja Alavesa, which borders the Spanish “Basque” region, and the language spoken there often includes Basque words, such as “Eguia” which means “truth.” The brand is symbolized by an open hand over the label, which is in the shape of an open book – analogous to putting one’s hand on a Bible to swear to the truth of what one is saying.

RÍAS BAIXAS
DENOMINACIÓN DE ORIGEN

Rias Baixas
SPAIN

From the Murua Family, owners of Bodegas Muriel, Conde de los Andes, and Viña Eguia in Rioja, Pazo Cilleiro Albariño is made from selected small vineyards around the winery, in Salnés Valley, in the heart of Rías Baixas appellation (in Galicia - Northwestern Spain). Fresh, humid, soft and pleasant...this is the personality of this valley in Rías Baixas.

Long ago, monks arrived there and settled in the beautiful valley near the sea, they built a monastery called, Armenteira. The monks planted their vines and soon realized how well they adapted to this new land. One of the monks was appointed as the official winemaker of the monastery and called the "Pazo Cilleiro" or the Cellar Master. In the dark of the cellar, the Pazo Cilleiro kept the treasure of Armenteira, a white wine "made to touch heaven".

A thousand years later, the inspiration is still the care and passion of the ancient cilleiros. The soil is granite, quite rich in quartz but poor in organic components, with a sandy texture. The vines are 25 years old, grown mostly in the traditional pergola system. All processes from vineyard to winery are focused to extract the maximum quality of this highly concentrated grape.

Penedes SPAIN

Florinda is produced by the fifth generation of the Domènech family. The winery was established in 1865 in Vilobí del Penedès, southwest of Barcelona in the heart of the Cava D.O. appellation. The vineyards are located in a valley between the Mediterranean Sea and the Catalan Pre-coastal Mountain Range. It is considered a prized land with unique characteristics for viniculture, particularly with the white varieties that make up Spain's best Cavas. The family name first appeared in local history as far back as the 10th Century.

In 1865, Don Francisco Jose Domènech planted vines on the land that became the family's first vineyards. After Phylloxera destroyed almost all the vines in Spain in the late 1880's, Florinda was among the pioneering wineries to replant non-contaminated rootstock. In the late 1930s, the Spanish Civil War erupted and part of winery was destroyed during fierce fighting near the end of the war. In 1940, when the Domènech family returned to rebuild the winery, Don Jose Domènech Torne (the son of Don Francisco) produced the first three bottles of Vallformosa Cava.

Since the beginning, the Domènech family has been passionate about their wines and, even today, follow the teachings of their ancestors that the "soul of the wine is in the soil and in their family roots."

The Domenech family is heavily involved with charitable endeavors, and are actively involved in cancer research through the Catalan Oncology Institution Foundation.

Florinda Brut

NEW AGE

Produced by family-owned Bodegas Bianchi from sustainably-farmed, picked-by hand, estate-owned vineyards in Argentina, the grapes for New Age wines are crushed and cooled, followed by 12 hours of cold maceration (to pull the color and flavor from the skins) and then pressed. Fermentation begins by inoculation with selected yeasts, half-way through the fermentation process the wine is centrifuged (spun) to halt fermentation, creating slightly sweet, wine with a slight sparkle to them.

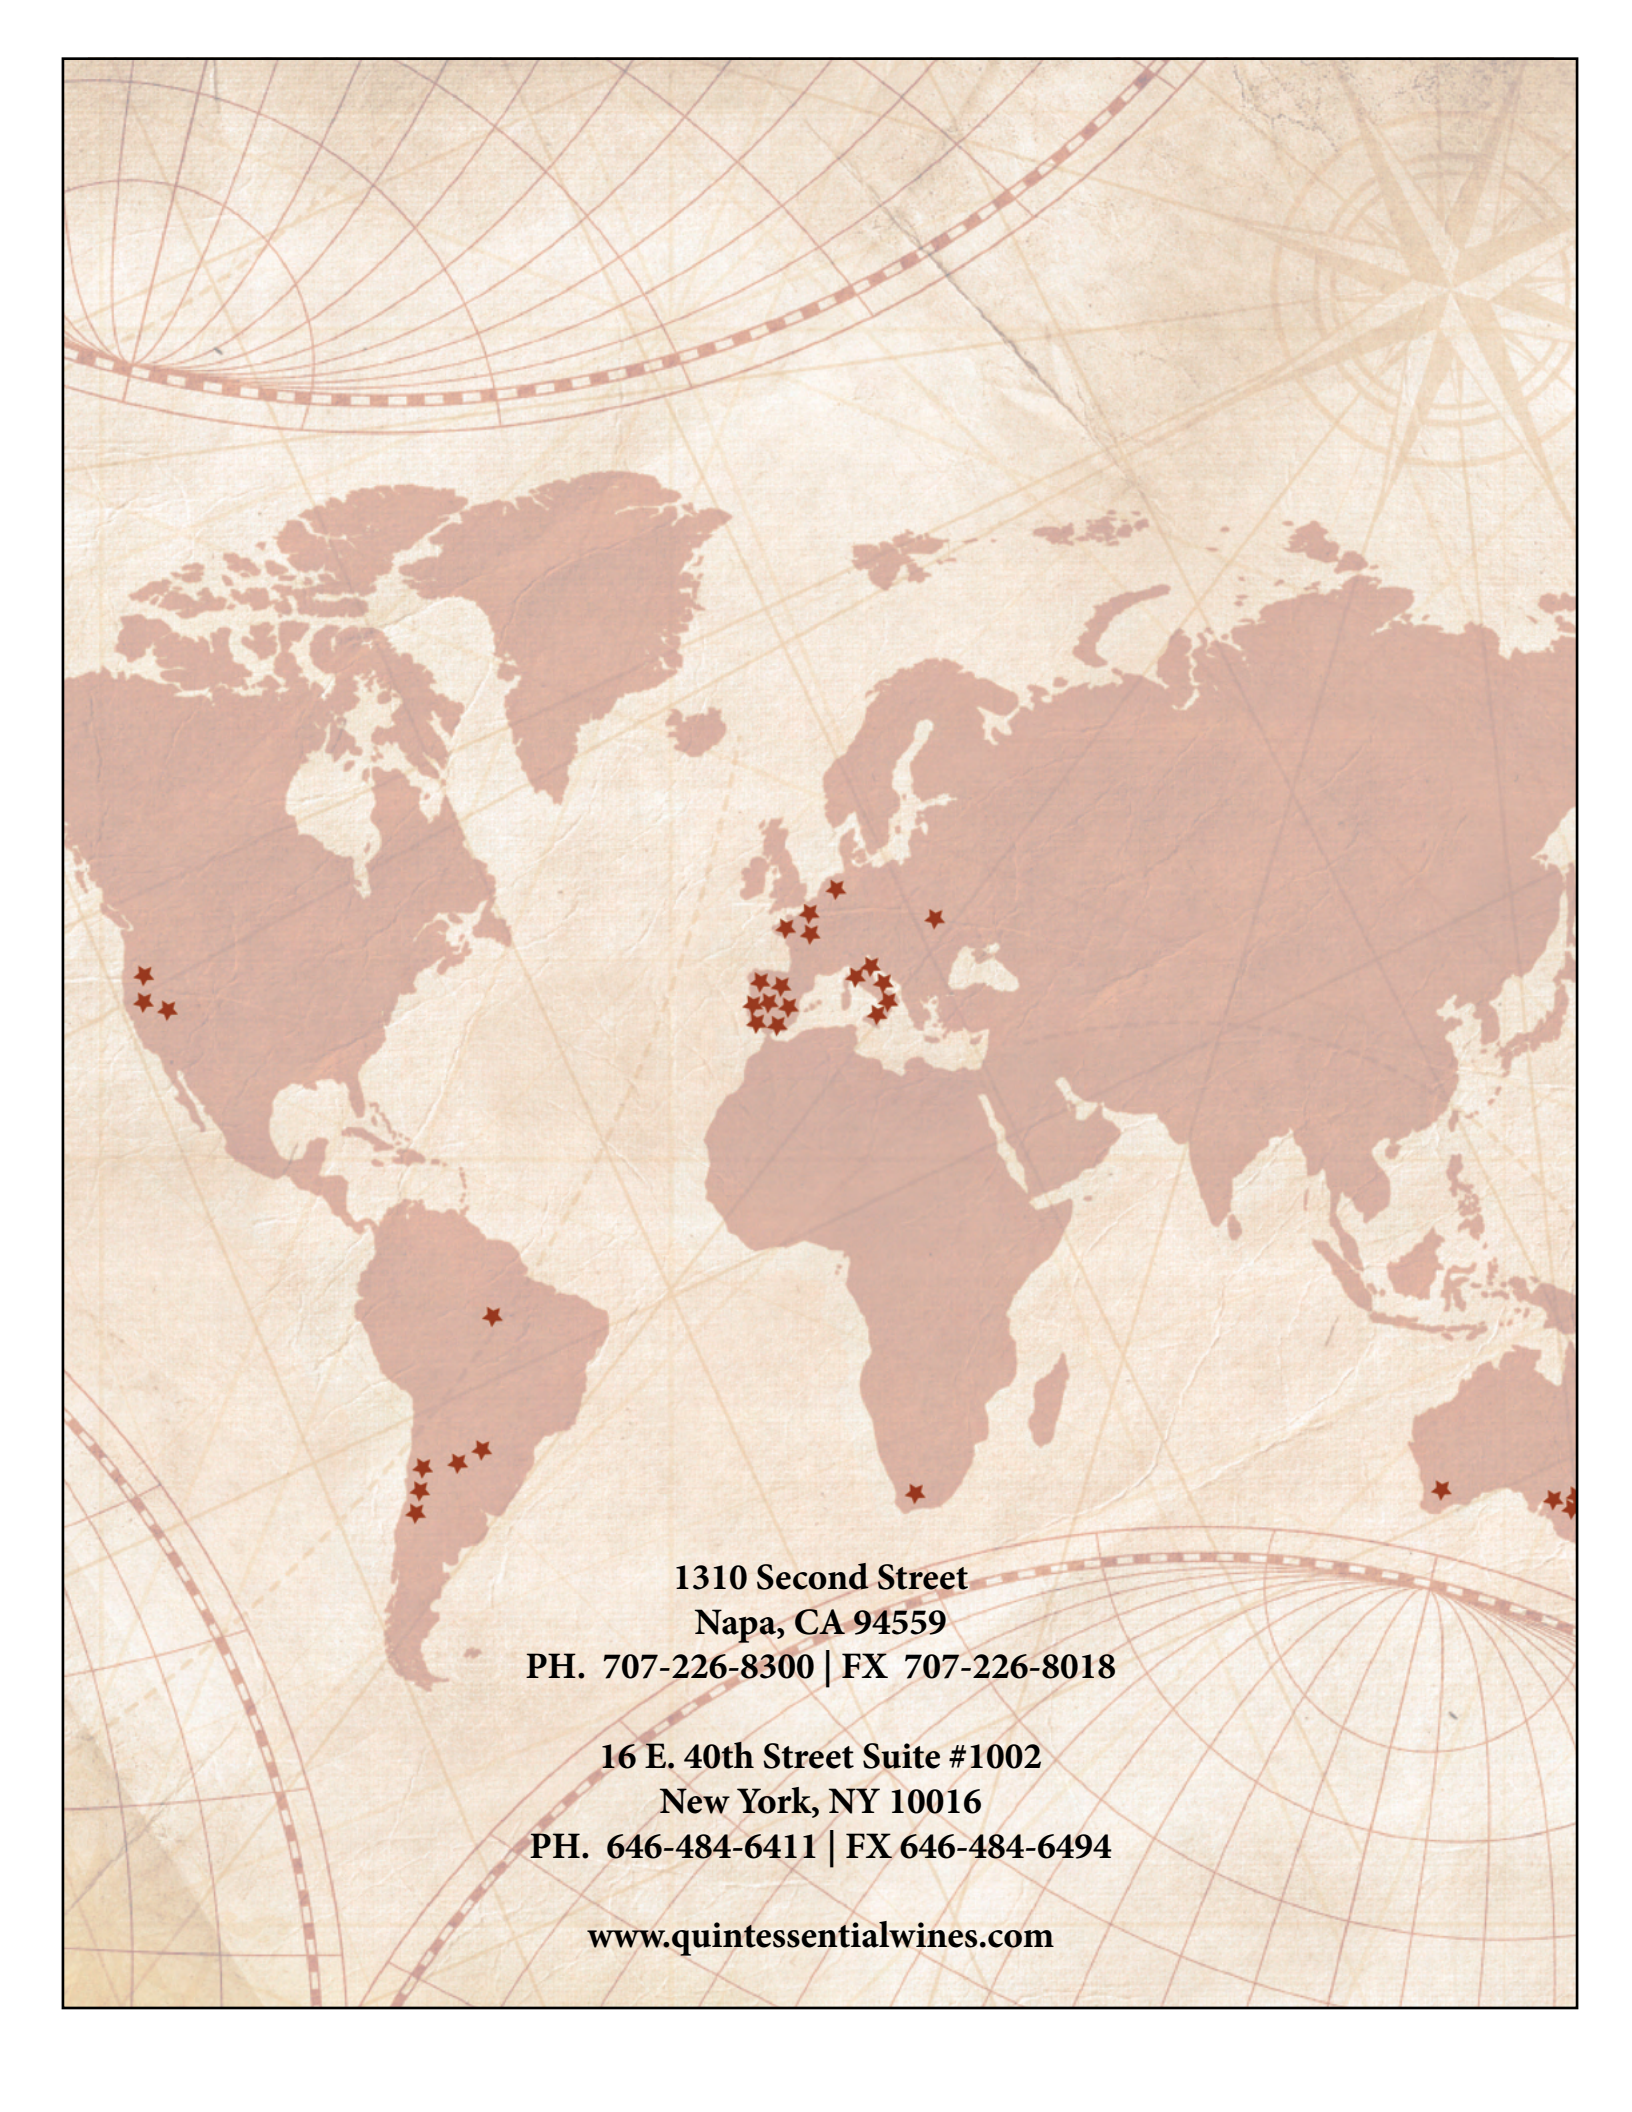

Enjoy these wines chilled on their own or serve as simple or complex cocktails.

The Dolzan family, now in its fifth generation, is led by Michele Dolzan alongside his brother Mauro and their father and president of Villa de Varda, Luigi Dolzan. The family has owned their vineyards and have been producing wines and grappa since 1678. Villa de Varda is located in the Trentino region at the foot of the Alps and is situated in the heart of the Piana Rotaliana, a wide alluvial plain crossed by the Noce and the Adige rivers. This area has a long history in the art of winemaking that dates back to 6th century BC where archaeologists have discovered many artifacts including Situla that were bronze vessels used for wine offerings to the gods. The vineyards, cultivated using the pergola system, have well-drained fertile soil, rich in calcareous and porphyritic elements (a geological term used to describe igneous rocks that have distinct difference in the size of their crystals). The climate is a blend of continental and Mediterranean. The summers are mild with considerable temperature ranges between night and day which contributes greatly to the complexity of the grapes from which the best pomace is derived for making Grappa.
