

TOSO

BRUT

was named #1 in a blind tasting of sparkling wines from around the world in

FROM KAREN MACNEIL

"If I told you I was amazed by a $13 sparkling wine that would be perfect for a family get-together or a party, would you want to know what it was? Spoiler alert: it's not from France, Italy, Spain, or the U.S.

I have to say I was completely shocked. In a recent blind tasting of sparkling wines from around the world that were not Champagne, the wine that came out on top cost $13 a bottle! The fantastic Toso Brut from Mendoza, Argentina, was delicious—fresh, lively, citrusy, and creamy. The kind of wine you could drink all evening. So, if you've got a get-together planned or just need some sparkling wine that tastes like it costs WAY more than it does, here's your wine..."

Karen MacNeil is the veteran wine writer of "The Wine Bible," which has sold over one million copies, making it the best-selling wine book in the United States.